

Invitation to the citizens of Biloxi to participate in Comprehensive Plan Workshops

The City of Biloxi currently is updating its Comprehensive Plan to guide its long-range development over the next 20-25 years. This update began in May 2008 and will be completed in approximately one year. Three initial workshops are scheduled, as detailed below, to gather public input about existing conditions, trends and key issues that may affect Biloxi's future.

The agenda is the same for each workshop. Following a brief presentation, those in attendance will break into small groups to discuss specific topics identified by a group moderator. Moderators then will briefly present a summary of each group's discussion to identify common issues and shared community goals. The meeting will conclude with a short discussion of the next steps in the planning process.
