We Need Your Input!

Being prepared for all types of natural hazards and disasters is the first step in reducing their negative effects. Mitigation planning is the best way to be prepared.

Please join us to review and make comments on the draft Hazard Mitigation/Floodplain Management Plan for your community.

An overview on the City's updated Hazard Mitigation/Floodplain Management Plan will be given by Rebecca Boone, Neel-Schaffer Inc. Copies of the draft plan will be available for the public to review and provide comment. The workshop will also feature a presentation by Lynn M. Carter, Ph.D., Associate Director of the Southern Climate Impacts Planning Program and Coastal Sustainability Studio at Louisiana State University, who will provide a brief overview of regional climate change trends. A question and answer session will follow.

If you are unable to attend in person, you may participate by reviewing the plan online and completing an online survey at www.biloxi.ms.us.

Work through these projects is sponsored in part by a planning grant from FEMA's Hazard Mitigation Grant Program and NOAA, the U.S. Department of Commerce, the Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant Consortium Mitigation Planning Is...

A process to identify sustained actions to reduce or eliminate long-term risk to people and their property from hazards.
