

The Biloxi Lighthouse:
Before, during and after the storm (at right) and as it appears today (below).

‘The end of the beginning’

It was Winston Churchill, at a pivotal point in World War II, who looked at his war-ravaged country and people, and took stock of the situation. They had reached a turning point in their years-long struggle. Despite the difficult times, it was not the beginning of the end, he said. It was the end of the beginning.

And now, nearly five years after Katrina, the same could be said of Biloxi.

We’re past the days of seeking federal funding and insurance money. We’re past the days of designing new buildings, or drafting plans to restore old ones. We’re past the point of drawing up construction contracts, and we’re even past the point of hiring contractors. Restoration and renovation are well underway. You can see the buildings coming up all around you. We’re at the end of the beginning.

But make no mistake: Biloxi still faces myriad and continuing challenges.

Tune in to hear Mayor A.J. Holloway’s State of the City address, a progress report on where we are today, how we got here and how we’re moving forward.

The State of the City cablecast
Thursday, Jan. 28, 2010
8 and 10 a.m., and 8 and 10 p.m.
Cable 13 in Biloxi
Or online anytime at biloxi.ms.us

Turn your email into Bmail

A growing audience of Biloxians and others interested in the city's recovery have kept up with the progress through the city's award-winning web site and e-news program.

In fact, since the storm, the city has transmitted more than 3.2 million e-mails to its local and worldwide audience.

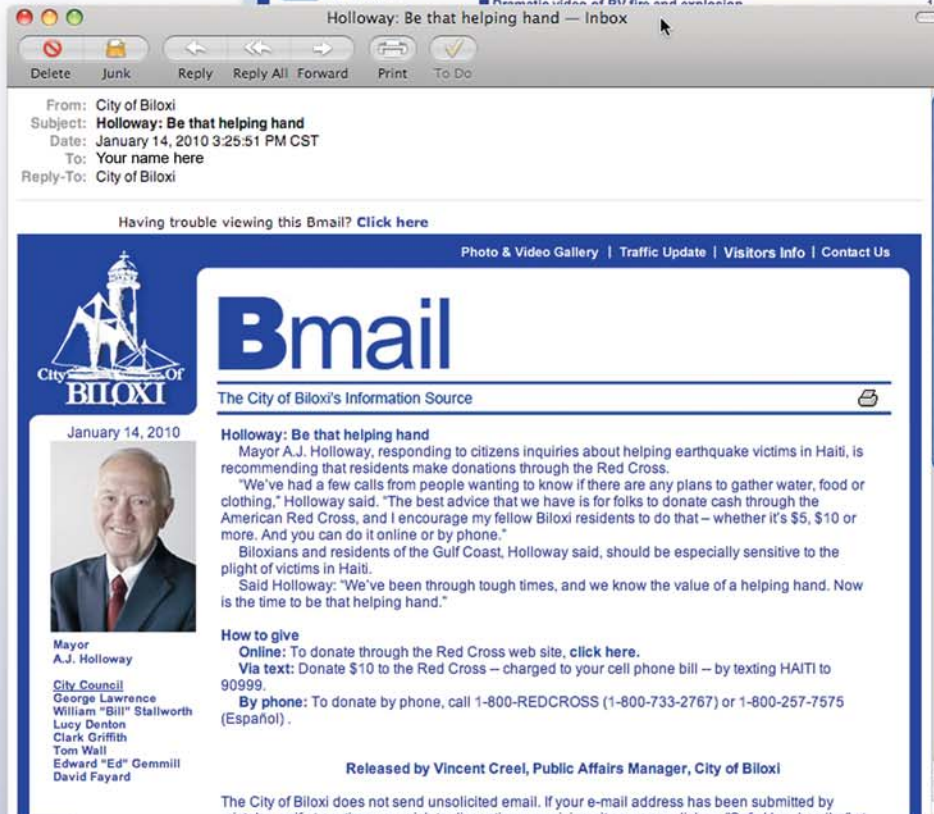

As a Biloxian, you should be in that number.

Keep up with Biloxi's progress and a host of other issues with Bmail, the city's free e-news program.

You'll get timely news from your city – storm recovery updates, City Council agendas, special events, photos, videos, traffic updates and other news of note – delivered directly to your Inbox.

It's free and convenient.

All you have to do is visit biloxi.ms.us and click on Bmail. It's takes only a few seconds to sign up and you'll receive a world of information.

biloxi.ms.us

P.O. Box 429
Biloxi, MS 39533

PRST STD
US POSTAGE PAID
PERMIT 57
BILOXI, MS 39530

ECRWSS

Biloxi Resident