Under The Boardwalk

Are you singing yet? It looks like our vacation-itis isn't going to go away any time soon, and that's a good thing for both us and the Mississippi Gulf Coast. We were recently selected as the Design Architects for a new family destination resort and casino, the Biloxi Boardwalk Resort. This world class resort will be the first of its kind on the Coast. Preliminary plans include a water and theme park, restaurants, retail, 500-room hotel, 40,000 square feet of casino space, large event, conference, and exhibit spaces. Everything about this resort is being designed to give guests that on-the-water experience, both inside and outside. Families will flock to the water park attractions, and guests of all ages will be drawn to the constant entertainment options while they soak up that traditional boardwalk and pier atmosphere.

For this incredible project, we've joint ventured with Cunningham Group. The resort will be located on the Point in East Biloxi and will utilize both existing and new structures to create the destination. We are thrilled to begin work on this boardwalk-inspired resort; and did we mention the sand beach pool? We can't wait to spend a weekend at the Boardwalk ourselves.
