Last week in Community Development, the City Council voted 5-2 to approve the zoning change application for the proposed Belle La Vie Master Plan Development. The 626 acre mixed use development is located in the newly annexed area of Biloxi, between Old Woolmarket Road and Lorraine Road.

Belle La Vie will be built out in 22 phases, and will include 347 acres for single family market rate homes, 60 acres for multi-family residential apartments, 183 acres for commercial development, including 60 acres for a certified retirement community, and almost 16 acres dedicated for city parks.

With the zoning change approval, the property owners can now move forward with developing the preliminary subdivision plat for the initial phases. Each preliminary plat application will go before the Development Review Committee, the Planning Commission for a public hearing, and the City Council for approval.
